GREAT CROWDS HEAR COOPER

Our Faulty Method of Living Pro- duces Ill Health, He Says

Lexington, March 17. L. T. Cooper, the man who created such a favorable impression in the big Eastern cities with his health theories and medicine, has attracted immense gatherings in Lexington, where the famous philanthropist has delivered a series of lectures in connection with his introduction of Tanlac, the medicine that is producing such remarkable results in Central Kentucky.

Probably ten or fifteen thousand have heard Cooper talk during the past few weeks. Possessed of an unusual amount of personal magnetism, Cooper seems to draw his crowds from all walks of life, and from everywhere in the Blue Grass section.

During the course of a recent lecture, he said:

"Possibly the most prevalent and distressing condition known to us Americans is chronic catarrh of the mucous membranes. Catarrh of the stomach is the most frequent cause of dyspepsia, and catarrhal conditions in the nose and throat lead to inevitable deafness. Show me a man whose hearing is affected and I will show you a man who is suffering from catarrh.

"Frequently," continued the great student, "the lungs become diseased by the extension of catarrhal inflammation by way of the bronchial tubes to the lung substance.

"The mental and physical state of chronic catarrh sufferers is, indeed, very unfortunate, and it is really surprising to know what an immense number of people are suffering from this universal malady when they think something else is wrong with them."

Cooper then enumerated the numerous symptoms of catarrh, such as an offensive breath, constant sniffling, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, frequent sneezing, watery eyes, full head, headaches, depression of spirits, nervousness, unsound digestion, lost appetite, and susceptibility to coughs and colds.

Cooper then told how the faulty methods of living produce rheumatism and kidney complaints. How the body, when the organs falter or fail, fills up with poisons generated by one's own system.

He explained how Tanlac, the miraculous medicine, would combat these conditions, as it had done among the thousands of sufferers in the East, as well as many hundreds in Lexington, who had already used the preparation, and found Tanlac an unfailing source of benefit. "Tanlac," he said, "builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical over-work, quickens convalescence, and is a sound source of comfort to the aged and infirm."

Tanlac is sold in Marion by J. H. Orme.—Advertisement.

That the Marion Girls handled their part of the program creditably goes without saying. We'd bet on that pair of girls in any undertaking they'd make. We have asked the fair speakers to supply us with their manuscripts and if they supply them our readers may see, in some future issue of the "Crittenden Record-Press" the "ammunition" which the "centrals" used to capture the entire delegation at Paducah.

Only Eighteen Coun- ties Fail To Ask Aid.

Frankfort, Ky. Mar. 6.—Only five counties outside a group in the mountains have failed to ask for state aid in building roads this year. Yesterday was the last day upon which, under the act of 1914 levying a road tax of five cents, fiscal courts could apply for their proportion of the state fund, and three notified Commissioner of roads R. C. Terrel yesterday that they desired to come in, making a total of 102 out of 120 counties participating in the distribution this year.

Henderson and Crittenden are the only two counties in Western Kentucky which did not apply. Henderson has to spend $10,000 on a tuberculosis sanatorium and is short of funds for 1915, and besides already has many miles of turnpikes and gravel roads. No other northern counties in the

On The Road.

Our field representative J. B. M. makes the following places: Salem. Well this little city as the renderers of Press knows, is the center in Livingston county, doing a thriving business. The R. F. D. No. 1, going out from Salem is raised in the way of mail, and Harry Martin, the carrier is loaded "not for bear" but with mail.

We made a days run over to Blackford, and did good business while there. This little village is situated over in Webster county and appears to be doing a thriving business.

Our next trip was out on route No. 1, from Marion, Noble Hill carrier, this is the oldest R. F. D. in this county. Mr. Hill was the first appointed and he is still holding down the "job".

Then we made a days circle by the way of View and Crayne.

Mr. Jeff Clement of near View is feeding 53 head of fine steers for the market. He has a silo of about 120 ton capacity from which he is feeding them and they are fine and fat. We were at Crayne about thirty minutes, and as usual did some business.

Cayne is always on the alert looking for business and she is doing business.

Our next round was out on route No. 4 from Marion W. E. Minner is the carrier. Mr. Minner is very much admired by the

THOMAS RELEASED.

The J. J. Thomas Case Was Dismissed Wednesday Morning.

The case against J. J. Thomas for secreting money, that has been hanging in the balance of the Court for about four years, and tried before two Juries without a verdict, was dismissed by the Commonwealth, Wednesday morning.

This decision meets with the approbation of the public, many of whom believe he has been punished enough, and as he confessed his sin and made full restitution no one lost a penny. Many are congratulating him on his release.

I am agent for the Louisville silo the best one on the market. Call on me or write for prices and full particulars.—James F. Arfleck.

MARCH TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge J. F. Gordon Very Forceful In His Speech To The Jury.

The attention of the Jury was called to the following laws:—Banding together for unlawful intent, his charge on this line was very impressive. Carrying deadly weapons, misdemeanors, destroying of property by burning or otherwise, felony; taking a value of two dollars is a felony, breach of the peace, assault and battery, selling of liquors, this is a prohibition county and the law should be enforced.

Attention was called to the kind of men we send to the Legislature to enact our laws. They should be business men and be interested in our county.

Back to the local option question—a man that will violate this law should be looked after. "Birds of a feather flock together," so they go on the stand and get out of this. Owners of cold drink stands who violate these laws should be given the limit. To stop this public sentiment must be against it, if it isn't the boot-legger and blind tigers are going to thrive.

His entire charge was very strong and impressive and was listened to not only by the Jury but the courtroom was crowded with attentive listeners.

Laws were discussed in regard to smoking cigarettes. The evil of cigarette smoking was especially dwelt on, and young men who smoke them have difficulty in finding employment. The "dope" law and duty of officers was also looked into.

The following were tried and disposed of up to Tuesday.

Bob Adamson, and Love for gaming, fined $20. each. Charley and Maggie Hunt, adultery, fine $20. each. Berry Brasher, Arfleck.

Candidate For Nomination as Auditor of Public Accounts Is Well Known Farmer and Live Stock Man.

H. H. COLYER, RICHMOND, KY.

AM A CANDIDATE for the responsible office of Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Kentucky. Recognizing the important consideration given in choosing an official that will measure up to the ability and fitness for this high office, I submit the testimonials of those informed of my private life. To be Auditor of the great Commonwealth of Kentucky is not a new ambition—its honors are supreme and worth fighting for. I am not entering this contest upon the advice of a few local friends. A careful scrutiny by my friends from every section of the state of all the usual political conditions have determined that my representation in this primary is not likely to be a final success. I am a farmer and live stock dealer—I am interested in systemizing agricultural interests for greater results and less hardships.

My political aspirations have been focused on this office for quite a while. Believing now that the election experience of the Democratic voters of Kentucky in the past has put them, "wise" to the dangers and un-democratic system of swapping state offices, inspires me with the belief that the time is ripe and the voters are ready to give to Kentucky's administration what they want in the form of a square deal. I believe in fighting for justice and meritizing the honors given. I believe that officials should be required to do as the toiling farmer earn the emoluments of his office by the sweat of his brow. I believe that when every official of Kentucky has labored hard for an economical administration that the taxpayers will be greatly relieved. I am not for creating more offices, but for dispensing with every one that is superfluous. I began voting temperance, and will continue to do so as long as I have the sovereign right. I am for the election of every Democrat that is worthy enough to win his nomination, and for the defeat of every Republican whether he won or stale his nomination, as in either case he would be wrong and never right.

If I am elected—which I believe from the public expression I will be—I promise now that the Commonwealth of Kentucky will never have a cause for suspicion of irregular management in my office, and that every employee will be of the highest type of fitness for the duties assigned. I expect to conduct my campaign on purely honorable Democratic principles—I am as much opposed to violating our election laws as I am of every other law enacted by a righteous tribunal. I hope to have the pleasure of meeting with every Democrat in Kentucky between now and the 7th day of next August. When the final results will have been declared I will cherish the memory of my supporters and will fight for Democratic supremacy.

Testimonial From Madison County Democratic Committee

"In behalf of the Democrats of Madison county, and through many other representative Democrats from other sections of the state, I take pleasure in presenting H. H. Colyer to the Democrats of Kentucky, as a man capable and worthy for the high office of Auditor of Public Accounts which he is now seeking. He is now and has always been loyal and aggressive for the success of Democratic supremacy. His morals and integrity are above reproach. If nominated, we predict that he will lead our Democratic ticket in November."

Respectfully,

"W. A. LANGFORD,
Chairman Democratic County Committee."

The "Kentucky Register" and "Climax-Madisonian" of Richmond, Ky., say, regarding Mr. Colyer:

"It is a pleasure to endorse a man of Mr. Colyer's worth for any office that he may seek. We have known him long and intimately, and can testify to the splendid quality of the Democracy, and to the value of his services to the party. Especially does it give us pleasure to say something of his value to the newspapers of this section. He has been one of the strongest friends the craft has ever had. He has been a consistent friend of the local publishers, has supported them morally and financially, and has always taken an active interest in the uplift and advancement of the journalistic profession."

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that since has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical profession. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the body, breaking down the cataract, and giving the patient strength to hold up the load until it is completely taken off. In doing its work the proprietors have no much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for a list of testimonies.

A Letter From Mississippi.

Okolona, Miss.

Mar. 8, 1915.

Mr. Jenkins:

I am in receipt of a letter from a man in Marion, and also the Press, and notice that the private letter does not speak in glowing terms of the roads in Crittenden county, and some of the news-items in the Press seem as if they were wondering where the roads are the paid tax for, and other writers infer that the language is not printable to express the condition of the roads in Crittenden county.

If you will give me a little space I would like to give you a few comparisons of the old time roads and the good roads we have here now, and something of their cost although I can not go into the details of the cost without looking up the records.

When we came to Okolona three years ago, I would have bought coal at $5.00 per ton rather than haul wood from the farm one and one half miles away, where I had 70 cords cut to make room for a house. One day I bogged down in one of the streets with 800 pounds of coal and had as good team of mules as any in the county. Every street in Okolona and every road leading into the city was a sea of mud and mire. The cotton yards paid as high as 50 cents per bale to haul cotton to the compress, one block away and could hardly get it hauled for that.

This winter has been as bad or worse, but the short time that has elapsed since we came here has marked some wonderful changes in road building. The farmer can pull 40 bales of hay to town with one team and the cotton people just load on all they can get on handy 15 bales, and could pull ten easy enough, and there has not been a day this winter but what I could drive to town in a one horse buggy in some comfort and see the streets lined with automobiles and heavy loaded wagons.

You wonder what has made the change? It is gravel shipped from Illinois, spread on a well graded roadbed and rolled with a heavy roller. The streets are gravelled in every direction, and every road leading into the city is gravelled. Where this is done and done right, you don't load your team, you just load your wagon. You don't run your Automobile 1 months and then leave it in the garage for 8. But you can run it to the speed limit any day in the year.

The thing that interests most people is: "What do these roads cost?" I cannot say any further than from an individual stand point and that is what interests the masses of the people. I paid $9.30 good roads tax each year for the last two years on 160 acres of land that is assessed as high as any I know of and had about 42 head of cattle and work stock besides. I think at this rate the bonds are to be liquidated in 20 years, but cannot say for sure. However, if the good roads tax go on for 100 years and the roads are kept up to their present standard, here's one to stay let 'er go.

You are getting interested in good farming and your paper will do a vast amount of good to the farming interests of the county. Now just give a boost for good roads and guide the old mudboat out of the mire and onto the solid rock. Then your constituents will pay the good roads tax with a smile and they with their posterity, that are yet unborn, will thank God that they were lead by you and your good paper to see the importance of good roads in enhancing the value of their real-estate and for the personal comfort and pleasures of all.

Yours very truly,

J. H. Crider.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,

Dear Editor:

I know you will be surprised to hear from me again so soon, but I can't stay away any longer. I saw in the Press where Mrs. Joseph Chandler sold $130.00 worth of eggs last year. I say hurrah for Mrs. Chandler, she is a hustler and a good neighbor, but she couldn't get up enough nerve to write me, so she got V. O. Chandler to write a few lines. Many thanks to both of you. I like for my old neighbors to write and tell me how things are in Kentucky. I can't write to all of them but would enjoy a nice letter from any one who cares to write the Record-Press. Tell Mrs. Chandler she beat me selling eggs but she can't near come up with me trying to cook beans. I put them on to cook Monday morning and boiled them all day, the next two days I did the same thing then I began to put in some soda. I cooked them until Saturday night, by that time I had them so strong with soda I could hardly stay in the room, and had burnt two dollars worth of coal, so I threw them over to the hogs, they rolled all over the ground and rattled like marbles.

Can you heat that, hah? If you can come out to see me. I never saw times so good in Mexico as they are now. The people are mighty glad I am a farmer. It's the only life for me. From the dawn of morn till darkness Just as happy as I'm free. Like to hear the cow-bells jingle. Hear the roosters crow for day. Puts a love song in my bosom. Thus my troubles drift away.

Like to hear the old hens cackle. In the barn loft and the stalls. Sounds like fairy strains of music.

Wafted from enchanted halls. Big fat turkeys out there strutting.

There's a hough in every breeze. Days grow brighter, life much sweeter.

In a farm house 'mong the trees. Oh I'm glad I am a farmer.

When the days are cold and wet. Sit around the fire with Eddie.

While the other women fret. Life is full of love and laughter.

When the snow is on the ground. Same way in the summer season. Then the rain is poring down.

When I come home from my neighbors.

Just as tired as I can be. Eddie's in the house singing.

And I know the songs for me. Kind 'o' pears to me, then brother.

Life is worth the woe and pain.

Worth the trouble it takes to live in a farmhouse by the lane.

Alta's Prominence.

The Topeka Daily State Journal says: Sheridan county is represented in the House by a Kentuckian, who, being a Kentuckian, is naturally a Democrat. He was County Attorney of Sheridan up to and including the day before he started to Topeka as representative, one job almost overlapping onto the other. W. H. Clark is the name of this lawyer person, and the reports indicate that his election by a small margin occurred in a Republican county. However, the extra dozen or so whose votes sent him to represent the county should be satisfied with their work, as he has shown ability in his new job.

His principal activities have been along legal lines, in which he is particularly efficient, and his legal ability may be due to his early training. Back in Kentucky he studied law in the same office with Ollie James, which was the office of James Senior, one of the leading legal lights of the Blue Grass state. The gentleman from Sheridan made a hit with one faction of the house by the able way in which he hangs it onto speakers of the opposition. He does it with the grace and elegance of a school teacher decorating a Christmas tree—not with long, time killing speeches, but with the pertinent

McGREW ENTERS RACE

Livingston Co., Enterprise
February, 18, 1914.

Hon. G. N. McGrew of Bayou has entered the race for representative from this district, subject to the democratic primary to be held August, 7. Many of the leading citizens of this county and Crittenden have solicited him to enter because of his fitness for the position. Mr. McGrew is a good farmer, a splendid Christian gentleman, an advocate of development and favors progress in every sense.

His long and useful connection with the State Board of Agriculture has given him ample opportunity to study the needs of rural life, to observe the neglect farmers have suffered from causes which he hopes to be able to remove and to the end, that he may be helpful to his district, he enters the contest.

Mr. McGrew is well known to most of the voters of both counties and they all have confidence in his honesty and ability, hence it would be superfluous for the Enterprise to try to add anything to his good name in making known his desires to be a member of the State Legislature. The next session of the Kentucky Legislature will be an important one for several reasons. If the tax law amendment to the constitution carries at the November election, a tax law will be enacted next winter and in the consideration of its provisions, the interests of rural taxpayers needs to be protected by a man able to meet the issue and fight for fair play and a square deal.

Voters often treat too lightly the selection of law-makers.

Men of wisdom and experience can serve the people, and make wholesome laws for our government, such a man we believe Mr. McGrew to be, hence, there can be no mistake made in naming and sending him to legislature for us. He is not a partisan, but if elected he will serve the whole people without regard to political affiliations. He cannot be regarded as an office seeker for during his entire life he has been content to remain on the farm and he has made a success of his business.

The Enterprise would be proud to see him honored with a seat in the Lower House of the next legislature because we believe he would serve the people ably, honestly, faithfully and constantly. —Advertisement.

THE PATTON RESIDENCE.

In a recent issue of the Evansville Journal News, Architects Capelle and Thurgood are complimented highly on their success. Among other buildings designed by them is the fine new residence property of Jas. R. Patton which is almost completed. The Journal News says:

"The building is one of the most beautiful modern homes to be found in that section of the state. It is designed in the colonial style and built of dark brown face brick, with stone trimmings. The house is located on a high bluff rising from the Ohio river. The basement extends under the entire house, and contains the hot water heating system, individual water system and electric lighting plant for the house. The first floor is taken up with a large living room, hall, dining room, pantry and kitchen, with a cold pantry. There is also a bed room, bath and separate toilet on this floor. The front porch extends across the whole front of the house, and a terrace along the south side of the house overlooking a large garden and the river.

While we do not desire to detract any from Messrs. Capelle and Thurgood's work, we do believe that much of the work is due to the diligence and ability of the contractor, F. B. Heath of Marion Ky. Mr. Heath has so conducted his work that Mr. Patton is well pleased. The building itself stands as a monument of pride to the name of F. B. Heath.

Messrs. Geo. Conditt, Callie Strong, David Postleweight, Allen Barger, of Hampton, and Johnson Postleweight. After they had spent a few pleasant hours, they left for their homes feeling that they had spent a pleasant hour with the kind family of Bro. Robinson, Miss Stella Robinson was the hostess and of course every thing was made pleasant to her guests.

H. T. Summers, of near Repton is doing a good business in the way of Backsmith and saw mill work. About dusk just before we reached the residence of Mr. Summers, we discovered a lady approaching us with a white straw hat on, which showed the wear of about two Summers, and in fact her whole dressing was made up of odds and ends of different colors, covered with bows and ties of red, white and blue, and we thought, that woman must be crazy, but it was Miss Laura Summers rigged out and going to a tacky party.

Roy Thurmond one of Crittenden county's boys is the manager of the Farmer's store at Repton and is selling goods and buying country produce. He is doing a good business.
